WALLPAPERING GUIDELINES

BE CAREFUL WHEN SELECTING YOUR WALLPAPER

- ❑ Even wallpaper that is exactly the same color can look different depending on the type of light, whether natural light, incandescent light bulbs or fluorescent light bulbs, as well as the angle by which you look at it. In general, wallpaper of a lighter shade, such as white, can be affected by the color of the surrounding flooring materials, furniture, curtains and/or blinds. This is why it is extremely important to take note of which direction the room faces, the location of where the wallpaper will be applied, and the sources of light before selecting the wallpaper you want.
- ❑ Avoid places exposed to high temperatures, high humidity, or areas that may come into contact with water when applying wallpaper.

BE CAREFUL WHEN APPLYING YOUR WALLPAPER

- ❑ Before applying the wallpaper, carefully read through the detailed product description provided in the sample book and the wallpapering guidelines listed on the product label.
- ❑ Use formalin-free adhesives if you are allergic to formalin and suffer from symptoms like rashes or hives or are sensitive to its odor.
- ❑ Colors may vary slightly, even among wallpaper rolls of the same color, depending on their date of manufacture. Wallpaper is best applied when surfaces are smoothed out and no rough spots are present.
- ❑ Wallpaper cannot completely cover uneven surfaces so make sure all surfaces are smoothed out as much as possible. Also, even though thorough tests are carried out to identify any possible defects with a product, apply three or four strips of wallpaper before applying the entire roll to ensure there are no problems.
- ❑ Should you experience any problems, either contact the store where you purchased the product or the closest sales office to you.
- ❑ Using any heating devices or other means to artificially dry the wallpaper faster after putting it up can cause damage to the wallpaper's surface. Let it dry naturally after applying it.
- ❑ Incinerating leftover wallpaper materials can cause irritation to the eyes or mucous membranes. Ask a licensed industrial waste management company to dispose of all remaining materials.

BE CAREFUL WHEN STORING AND USING WALLPAPER

- ❑ Do not forget to crosscheck the delivered product against the invoice.
- ❑ Storing wallpaper horizontally can leave folding marks on the wallpaper when it is unrolled so make sure it is always stored vertically.
- ❑ Ventilate the room after putting up the wallpaper to remove any remaining adhesive odors or odors coming from the new wallpaper itself.
- ❑ Exposure to direct sunlight or intense heat for an extended period of time can discolor the wallpaper. Block out any direct sunlight with curtains or blinds. Also, heat from stoves and other heating objects can cause wallpaper to peel or have its edges come off the wall.
- ❑ Applying cellophane or other adhesive tapes onto wallpaper can damage or discolor its surface.
- ❑ To remove dirt or grime, lightly wipe the wallpaper with a clean, moist rag. (Use of organic solvents such as thinner or benzene will severely damage the wallpaper.)
- ❑ Mildew can grow on wallpaper in humid weather, such as long spells of rainy weather. Provide sufficient ventilation and, when necessary, an adequate level of heating for the wallpaper.
- ❑ Cigarette smoke and kitchen soot will cause the wallpaper to accumulate dirt.
- ❑ Wallpaper is vulnerable to fire. Direct exposure to any flames can trigger damage to its design and can produce toxic gases.

This indicates a situation that could result in a minor problem if instructions are not followed carefully.

This indicates a potentially hazardous situation which could result in severe injury or death if instructions are not followed carefully.
